Dentes the Statement.

Some days ago, in printing an account of an assault by a negro on Mr. Beeson, THE GAZETTE stated that Mr. Beeson was under the influence of drink at the time. This statement was not made to "slander" Mr. Beeson, but upon the leformation furnished to this paper. Mr. Beeson assures THE GAZETTE that he does not drink, and did not visit any disreputable piaces on the night be was so brutally attacked, and declares all such statements to be false, no matter who made them to THE GAZETTE. This space is cheerfully accorded Mr. Besson, as THE GAZETTE has no desire to injure any one in any way and could have no motive for so doleg. Its information of local circumstances is, of necessity, largely dependent upon others and for this present discrepancy of statement THE GAZETTE is not intentionally responsible; and it shows its indisposition to injustice by willingly giving place to so brutally attacked, and declares all such no Houston street. Both the church entertainments on Houston street last night were highly uccessful and largely attended. At 503 Houston the ladies of the Catholic church have fitted up a spacious hall where they propose to feast the hungry every day and evening this week, and to sell a world (more or less) of fancy articles. They are doing this to raise money for the purchase of a church organ, and they formance to-night.

It is rum red that Mr. H. N. Conner will run for alderman. His friends hope he will decide to do so. ing they did extremely well last night.
THE CUMBERLAND LADIES.

A little high-r up the street the ladles of the Cumberland Presbyterian church also did finely with their baztar, clearing quite a sum of money which they will devote to the laudable purpose of build-ing a new and comfortable parsonage for their loved pastor, Rev. R. M. Tinnon. Besides a fine supper there was a large display of scarfs, cushions, mais and many other beautiful specimens of women's handiwork. The dolls dressed to represent various nationalities reflected great credit on the logenuity and taste of Mrs. W. F. Somerville.

This entertainment will continue to-day and to-night.
